

Good afternoon, I have an update regarding this week's schedule. Despite the mild temperatures and lack of snow, Springhill is suitable for training Tuesday and Wednesday. Coach Brian visited Springhill today and reports the chair was operational and the hill was quiet. With the forecast for cooler weather, hopefully the snow will hold-up and they can make more snow to increase their base. Training will take place on the 27th and 28th from 10 am to 1 pm with a day trip to Frost Fire on Thursday.

For those attending the Banff camp Brian also forwarded a message (note there was an issue with the attachment he refers to, I will resend once we sort it out. Appears the Sunshine Card, which can be purchased at SportChek, is the best bet for lift tickets)

Hi Everyone,

Re: Preliminary details for the upcoming Mtn Camp

Amongst all of the hustle of the holiday season I know that we are wondering about lift ticket arrangements, at least.

I have lane space booked for each day at Sunshine, however, I am considering having us train at Nakiska or possibly Norquay on the last day. Nakiska would provide us with a change of scenery and get us closer to the flatlands for our drive home.

Included in the attachment is some Sunshine card information that Glenn has provided. Please consider getting to SportChek to purchase a card in addition to satisfying other sporting goods needs. I will send an itinerary for the Banff Camp in the days to come.

Merry Christmas.

Regards,
Brian
